

WELLMAN FAILS; AIRSHIP A WRECK

CREW AND KITTEN PICKED UP AT SEA BY STEAMER
—OUT OF COURSE

On Board Steamship Trent, at Midnight, Oct. 18, by United Wireless to the Associated Press, New York—“We sighted the airship at 5 a. m. today. She signalled us by the Morse code, and the wireless played a wonderful part in requesting me to stand by her till day light. We kept a boat close by her till dawn broke, when she signalled that she could not launch her life boat, and asked me to keep close in order that a line might be attached. We made several futile attempts to attach a line, then the American wirelessed that she would come down to the water as soon as possible and drop her boat if I could stand by and pick the boat up. “Meanwhile our life boats kept close to the airship as possible, and finally she got all her men in her boat and cut adrift at a height of above five feet from the water.

“This proved successful. The America immediately arose in the air, and shortly afterward, at 8 o'clock, I had the pleasure of welcoming on board Mr. Wellman and his five lieutenants and a cat, which seemed little the worse for its air experiences. I then picked up the boat and proceeded “Wellman and his crew of five are honored guests on board. After a wash and a brush up, they ate a hearty breakfast. The America was abandoned in latitude 35.18; longitude 65 13, west, 408 miles from Sandy Hook and the craft is now having a great time among the clouds. The America was making a speed of about eight knots when abandoned, and when released drifted to the westward. Her motor had been broken and Wellman was out of his course. All hands were mighty glad at being rescued.

BUSHNELL KILLS SELF AND WIFE

BODIES FOUND IN ROOM—
PENSACOLA SHOCKED
BY THE TRAGEDY

Pensacola, Fla., Oct. 18—In the finding of the lifeless bodies of Capt. R. M. Bushnell and wife at their home on West Gregory street today, one of the most awful tragedies in the history of Pensacola was revealed.

That the husband had killed his wife while she lay sound asleep in bed and several hours afterwards turned the revolver upon him. It was proven conclusively by the big army revolver which lay beside his lifeless body on the bed. That the wife had been killed many hours before the husband took his own life was also shown, for her body was cold and stiff, while his was still warm when parties forced an entrance into the residence.

Cause Unknown

The cause of the terrible act will never be known. Captain Bushnell was a model man in every respect. He was cashier of the Citizens National Bank, and chairman of the Board of Bond Trustees, stood high socially, and a consistent member of the First Presbyterian Church. He served during the Spanish-American war as captain of the Escambia rifle, and it was the revolver which he carried through this war that he used in ending his own life and killing his wife.

Mrs. Bushnell visited some friends during the early part of last night, returning home early, and later she and her husband were seen upon their front porch, as was usual each evening. Nothing more was seen of them until their lifeless bodies were found. Neighbors said they heard one shot sometime after midnight, but could not locate it. This was the shot which ended the life of Mrs. Bushnell. Later in the day, or late this morning, two more shots were heard, but they were muffled so that they could not be located.

Bodies Are Found

Later in the day Rev. Julian S. Sibley, pastor of the Presbyterian church, was passing and noticing that the residence was closed, he went on, thinking that possibly some one was ill. He found the doors locked, but forced up a window, and with a colored man entered the bed room, where he found the dead bodies.

The theory is advanced that Captain Bushnell in a fit of temporary insanity, killed his wife during the night and later, upon becoming rational, he saw what he had done and killed himself.

SHERIFF BUTLER TO MAKE RACE

QUALIFIED LAST NIGHT AS CANDIDATE FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE

Sheriff T. W. Butler last night qualified as a candidate for probate judge, and his name will appear on the ticket.

It had been rumored for some time that he would make the race, but nothing official could be secured. The time in which he had to get his name on the ticket expired last night at midnight.

Owing to Sheriff Butler and Walter A. Brown both being candidates, they are disqualified to serve with the probate judge in selecting managers, and Register in Chancery Cady has appointed J. R. Young and J. E. Wise to act in their place in selecting the list of managers, clerks and returning officers for the coming election.

MAN AND HIS WAYS

CICERONIAN NOTES

The late James W. Van Cleve, though president of the National Association of Manufacturers, was very fond of cracking a joke now and then. Once, when he had occasion to visit his plant on Sunday, he found one of his employees there.

"I just came to loaf a while," explained the employee.

"Can't you loaf enough on week days?" asked Van Cleve.

"Among the many pranks of Mark Twain's journalistic days," said a Virginia City editor, "was the concoction of a speech that was put upon a famous senator.

"The senator had attended a Virginia City banquet but had not spoken. He had a sore throat. A brother from a rival paper reached the banquet late.

"What did the senator speak about?" the newcomer whispered to Mark Twain.

"He made a very interesting speech on the potato," was the reply.

"The potato, eh? That's odd. Let's have the points, will you?"

"With pleasure," said Mark Twain; and he dictated half a column that the reported duly printed the next morning as the distinguished senator's valuable contribution to agricultural science. The speech began like this:

"Ladies and gentlemen, had it been my lot to be born in Ireland, where my food would have principally consisted of the potato—that most salubrious and nutritive root—I should be now, instead of the the poor, infirm, stunted creature you see before you, a tall, stout, athletic man, able to carry an enormous weight."

The Ciceronian society held its regular meeting Monday, October 17, 1910. This being the day to elect new officers, the following were elected:

Howard Baxley, president; Coleman Hatcher, vice president; Mary B. Pittman, secretary; Ruth Stapleton, censor; Ben Faulk, editor; J. P. Culver, Louise Lee, press committee.

A committee of five were also elected by the president to get yells. On last Monday we elected our debaters and declaimers who are to take part in the semi-annual contest. The following were elected: Ernest Walden and Howard Baxley, debaters; Annie L. Harris, Enoree Crymes and John B. Harris, declaimers.

FRANKLIN NOTES

The Franklin society met Monday, October 17, and carried out a very interesting program. The debate, "Resolved, That a Hypocrite is a More Despicable Character than a Liar," was won by the negative. Tom Blackshear made the best speech. The music was enjoyable.

This being the day to elect officers, the following were elected: Joshua Couch, president; Hyman Levine, vice president; Janie Farmer, secretary; Willie Pearl Carter, editor; Lucile Willis, assistant editor; Lincey Crawford, censor; Tom Blackshear, sergeant at arms.

After this T. J. Whatley, Willie Pearl Carter and Cora Glenn Faircloth were appointed on color committee.

There being no other business, the society adjourned to meet the following Monday.

Editor Dothan Daily Eagle,

Dear Sir: I am anxious to know if a councilman of a city can legally represent his city and ward and hold position with another the city drawing salary. We know such is the case in our city. Please answer through the columns of your paper.

A Citizen.

Section 1175 of the Political Code says: "No mayor or alderman of any municipality shall accept employment, after his election, and during his term of office, from any public-service company or corporation operating under any franchise granted by the municipality, and any person accepting such employment after his election, thereby vacates his office."

We hardly think the councilman above referred to is working for any public-service corporation operating under a franchise granted by the municipality. He is probably working for the city on a salary, and as to his legal right to do this, we are not informed. Have found nothing in the code to prevent it, although we have not looked thoroughly.

CENTRAL ENGINE JUMPS TRACK

The engine on the Central train due here at 8:15 in the morning suffered a small wreck this morning when the front trucks jumped the track near Hartford. The locomotive struck a cow a few minutes previous and it is thought that the horns of the animal caused the wreck. The fireman became excited and jumped from the cabin, slightly spraining his leg.

The damage was small and the train was delayed only about 30 minutes.

If you have a picture to frame, telephone us, and we will send for it and frame it on short order. Strickland Brothers

Monday night a few miles from Jakin, Ga. the car of H. A. Blount, a chauffeur of Dothan, was completely destroyed by fire.

Mr. Blount was taking the car to Mr. Blount at Chumax when the accident occurred. It was about 2 miles from town when some thing got wrong with the machine, and when he investigated the gasoline became ignited covering the whole car and flames.

auto was completely destroyed before anything could be done. The machine was an E. M. F. "97" touring car and had been in use about a year. The car was fully covered with smoke. Mr. Blount and Mr. Danz left this morning for Jacksonville about the same time.

It is so bad that they not only do not go to the door when opportunity knocks, but would not answer her if she rung them up on the telephone.

ANNISTON JURY FINDS
LEE GILBERT GUILTY

Anniston, Oct. 19.—Leo Gilbert the well known young Annistonian, who has been on trial in this city this week for the murder of Willie Graham, a pretty young shop girl with whom he was infatuated, was found guilty in the verdict rendered this afternoon, a sentence of life imprisonment being recommended.

The defendant's life was saved by the insanity plea, it being alleged that he had been rendered insane by the ravages of disease and by hereditary, being under a brainstorm as a result of protracted drunkenness at the time of the killing. His attorneys have appealed the case.

Gilbert's alleged motive in killing Willie Graham was jealousy. The girl was shot five times last August while she pleaded for mercy, the drunken man holding her while he fired some of the shots which ended the life of the dead girl. The fatal shot, was fired over the shoulder of her sister, Lee Graham, who fought with the assailant to save her sister's life, receiving also a bullet wound in the back. Owing to the human interest features of the case, and to the seeming cold-bloodedness of the killing, the trial attracted unusual interest.

No man ever learns so much about his job till it disqualifies him for other lines of work.

A Job for the Dethroned King

It has been suggested that the dethroned king of Portugal come to this country and take a job with some great publishing house—that is putting out for the first time in the United States the work of the aggregated congress of distinguished down and out authors, in gilt, three-quarters leather, with an introductory signed face-smile by Woodrow Wilson.

In looking over the list of jobs that this young ex-king might be able to hold down with entire satisfaction to the management, it had never occurred to us to put him on a solicitor's job. We don't believe he could make good on it till he had become thoroughly acclimated. We did think that he could make enough money to pay import duty on his crown and tin sword, in case he got a chance to ship them, if he would apply at some of the Greek restaurants, where a bright young man, willing to work, can always find plenty to do.

We don't know what class of language the youngster has been practicing, and therefore the job as waiter in a restaurant is strikingly appropriate, where English isn't spoken in the presence of guests.

His first lesson would be to learn to walk rapidly up to the hungry man, just seated, and pretend to take his order. He would then turn and hollow something through a wicket door that sounded like a new brakeman calling a station in an unknown tongue. The next ten or fifteen minutes could be put in talking to another waiter, till time to go get a glass of ice water. When the ice water is delivered, and the salt and pepper shakes have been arranged, some other conversation might be had with the man up at the front. Ten to fifteen minutes later, according to the characteristics of the man, he might slip around to the rear, and then dash to the front of the table where you are seated, vigorously polishing a dish with a towel. He may have brought a plaster of butter, the size of a sample box of corn salve. He rearranges your salt and pepper shakes, and puts down three or four spoons. By this time the mail has arrived, and the foreign paper can be glanced over for ten to fifteen minutes. If the young waiter is learning fast, he will suddenly drop everything, shoulder a towel and rush for the wicket door, but only to return with the order for the man who isn't in a hurry, and who you think came in after you did. Just before you start to get up and reach for your hat, he can make another break for the door, and this time bring some rye bread, and re-arrange things. If the beginner can succeed in holding a hungry man at a table for fifty minutes, with the past exercises, he will have qualified, and can get a card in the waiters' union. If he can hold the man for an hour, he is entitled to start on full pay.

We would hardly suggest that the king start in a Greek restaurant. They don't enjoy having you wait. They take things in a mournful manner, and could never, not with a hundred years practice, get that smiling, scraping affability that characterizes the trained negro waiter. A negro waiter who is on to his job, can come biling out through a swinging door after 89 minutes delay, holding a waiter high over his head, glide up to your table, slam things to their places, and in a soothing voice ask if there is some'n else, which will make you forget that you were figuring on shooting him a few minutes before. The foreigner can't overcome this kind of service in an eating house, and would be no match to the Afro-American, snelled Southern style, with two g's.

Kingly airs are not becoming in restaurants, and if the Pompadour Boy from Portugal finally decides to come across, we would advise him to cut out any regal movement he might have acquired, and get a steady lick on.

If he works hard, and tries to learn something of his work, it won't be long before he will see that it was an error for him to have ever selected Portugal as a place to build up his lost fortune.

Secretary Biggers of the Commercial Club ought to get in correspondence with his majesty, looking to his final location in Dothan before some Jay town gobbles him up for a mere song. He would be a good drawing card here for several weeks.

A Little More Politics.

"At the solicitation of many good citizens of Houston county, I have consented to run for Judge of Probate."

The above is the opening sentence in a circular letter that is printed in this morning's Journal, purporting to have been mailed to the voters of this county by Sheriff T. W. Butler.

It has been rumored for several days that Mr. Butler was considering making the race, although he had made no public announcement of it, till this letter was sent out.

There is hardly a doubt existing in the minds of the people of this county that A. C. Crawford received a majority of the Democratic votes in the last primary. This being a Democratic county, it is the duty of every Democrat to vote for Crawford because the party has spoken.

It is not necessary to say anything for Crawford, or against Tom Butler. The voters ought to know their duty, and do it, without being told. If we think that a Democratic organization is the best form of government, then it is a sad day for the Democratic party when the voters turn their backs upon a man whom the party has chosen. To do this would invite destruction of the organization, and such a thing as a Democratic primary is a useless expense.

In this instance, there is no charge of fraud; there is no excuse offered; other than the office is wanted badly by a man who has heretofore advocated a Democratic primary.

In the last primary the Eagle opposed Hon. Emmet O'Neal for governor in about every way it could. But he was nominated for governor. He was wanted by the majority of the Democrats of Alabama. Now he is our candidate for governor because the majority of the party we affiliate with wants him. To vote for any one else is un-Democratic, and will give strength and support to a Republican organization, in a state too, where a Republican organization is maintained, not for purity in politics, but for the emoluments of an organization.

The same applies to local affairs. Twenty days from now, and the election is to be held. We have had enough politics during the last year. We want no more, and shall not get ourselves wrought up nor will we allow this paper to be used by parties who are too wrought up to know what is best to say, and what best to have unsaid. We shall urge the people of this county who claim to be Democrats to go to the polls on the 8th of November and vote for the nominees of the party. If this cannot be done with good grace, such people ought to have the good grace to stay out of a Democratic primary.

Selling cane juice to the thirsty people of this town is no small business, and while we are on the subject, it was just about like Dothan to be the first to put this beverage on sale at the soda fountains. A good thing is soon found out, and now throughout southern Alabama, cane juice is the favorite soda water drink.
